

HIV – True or False?

Condoms can reduce the risks of catching or passing on HIV.

HIV testing is free and confidential.

HIV treatment is free and can be as simple as taking one pill a day.

People living with HIV can live as long as someone without HIV, if diagnosed and treated in time.

People living with HIV on effective treatment can't pass it on.

People living with HIV can have a baby and not pass on HIV to their baby.

People living with HIV are not restricted to the type of work they can do.

HIV infection rates are coming down in the UK.
